Our new house: FIRST, check that the utilities are on. If it's raining, put down carpet remnants or tape down cardboard or plastic. Have someone there to direct the furniture and box placement. Feed the movers. If you've hired a moving company, cold sodas, water bottles, and a box of cookies will go a long way toward unbroken china. If you've hired friends, ditto above, followed by pizza and beer |

| Consider painting the insides of the closets now, before you load them up; it's much easier now. If they need to be painted, a coat of off-white will help enormously and you won't feel so pressured to paint the whole room and the closet too. |
|---|
| Treat yourself and other family members as rooms are finished. |

Congratulations -- you've survived, you've arrived!
